

Robyn Veitch

Profile

- I am a product and systems designer studying BA Product Design at Central Saint Martins, UAL.
- I work across a range of design fields taking particular interest in systems analysis, integration of digital and physical design and social, user-centred design.
- I thrive under mixed and dynamic conditions, specialising in contextual analysis, human-centred design, digital design and iterative development.
- I achieved a 100% attendance record at school and became distinguished among staff for my work ethic and dedication to task. I hold personal standards for the quality of my work which exceed requirements, I am not personally satisfied until I know I have done the absolute best on any task I have.

Objective

I am keen to secure a part or full-time internship to develop my design practice and contribute to an organisation over the coming year. This would be preferably be 20 weeks or more.

Achievements

- Full marks on Higher Product Design Assignment: The highest mark the school has ever had which, in turn, prompted a change in the way the department executes design assignments.
- Highest Product Design exam mark ever for my school at 97%
- Duke of Edinburgh Silver Award: This involved two three day expeditions without outside support, 6 months volunteer work in a 'Cub Scout' group and three months in a running club.
- 8 years in the Scouting organisation: From 'Beaver' level through to 'Explorer' while assisting as a junior leader to the younger groups.
- Elfride Hempstead prize for Art and Design: A special award given to the particularly innovative and original Advanced Higher Art and Design projects.
- 1 Conditional and 4 Unconditional offers for various Universities and Art/ Design Schools: Including The Glasgow School of Art, Edinburgh school of Design and Central Saint Martins, UAL
